EXECUTION OF JACKSON.

The Last Moments of the Condemned He Protests His Innocence-Remarks on the Scaffold-Death Struggle-Scenes, Incidents, &c., &c.

The third execution which has taken place in Alexandria within the past half century, and the second which has occurred here within the past year, took place at the jail yard to-day : William Jackson, a colored man, convicted on the 12th of November last, in the Circuit Court for the county of Alexandria, of the murder of Mary Jackson, his wife, in the month of Pelmary, 1872. Jackson was sentenced, upon his conviction, to suffer death upon the 16th of March last. An appeal from certain rulings of the Court below having meanwhile been tiken to the Court of Appeals, the execution of the sentence was deferred for a decision of that tribunal, which overruled the appeal. At the term of the Circuit Court, subsequent, the execution of the sentence was fixed for Friday, the 11th of July, whence it was respited until the 1st of August, and again, in consequence of the absence of Governor Walker from Richmond, respited until to-day.

Soon after his conviction and sentence he vielded to the religious influences by which he was surrounded by the colored ministers who came to visit him in prison, and by the Jail Committee of the Alexandria Young Men's Christian Association, which bestowed especial attention upon his case. He renewed a conversion that he professed to have experienced many years ago, and has for many weary months of his imprisonment devoted to religious affairs and the matter of his salvation, by far the greater portion of his time and attention.

He has seldom been hopeful of his release from the death penalty, and never sanguine. With an unfailing pertenacity, he has declared that he was not responsible for the death of his wife, and that he had been unjustly condetuned. Quite docile in the jail, he has given his keepers less trouble than almost any one of the many prisoners who have been in their charge since his confinement, bearing, in this respect, a marked contrast with Mauley, in the earlier days of his confinement in jail. He excited greatly the sympathy of a large number of persons, and multiplied attempts were made to obtain for him executive clemency, efforts which at one time, it was believed would be erowned with success, but which were destined, in the end, to be disappointed.

Jackson has been quite sleepless of late and spent on Tuesday and Wednesday the entire night in singing and praying, loud enough to be heard throughout the jail. Last evening the Christian Association Committee came in the jan about 8 o'clock, and remained with Jackson in devotional exercises until twenty minutes past nine o'clock. Soon after they left, the condemned man called Keepers Cline and Ward, and a-ked that the light might be put up higher so that it might shine in his cell grating so that he could read. Shortly after that he called again and asked that the light be put out, saying it was his last night on earth, he had made his peace with God, and had no enemies; he belevel he would take his last sleep on earth. The light was extinguished and for some time the stillness of death reigned in his cell. This silence was so unusual that the guards feared he had committed suicide, and after listening at the cell door and hearing no sound, Mr. Ward opened the door softly and crept in. Jackson was in a deep sleep, breathing easily. The door was softly closed again and the doomed man sept until 4:20 this morning, when he arose, and began again to sing and pray.

At 51 o'clock the prisoners are let into the yard for exercise. By this time Jackson had dressed and breakfasted, eating heartily. Shortly after the members of the Christian Association arrived and Jackson sat with them in the corridor and engaged in devotional exercises. At 104 Rev. Messrs. Henry Marshall, J. A. Aldridge and Alex. Emmerson entered the corridor and assisted in the devotional exercises. The ram having begun to fall in heavy drops months crowd outside, the throng, mostly col ored people, were admitted to the jail yard, where they stood patiently looking at the gallows and getting as close under the walls and under umbrellas as they were able, to keep themselves from the dreaching showers. Within the corridor the devotional exercises continued without intermission. There were no tickets required; all who came were admitted, but the heavy rain prevented the undue crowding of the yard. At II o'clock the following dispatch was handed to Mr. O'Neal, which cut off all hope wany had hogered until then: RICHMOND, Aug. 15, 1873.

To John B. Smoot : The Governor declines to interfere with the execution of the law in the case of Wilham T. F. OWENS.

Colonel and A. D. C. At 12:5 the Sheriff accompanied by the under Shenffs, went into the corridor and bade Jackson farewell, and as it was raining outside, said all the formalities would take place in the The Sheriff then read the sentence under which the execution was ordered, with the vari-ons orders of respital, and the telegrams refusing interference. At the conclusion of the reading of the sen-teace, and papers relating to the execution ackson said-What is that about "cursed." dent nuderstand that. The Sheriff explained that the word was not oused but "accused." and meant any one harged with crime. Jackson then professed nunsell satisfied.

When the jailor's wife came in to bid Jackson farewell, she said, "good bye, I hope it will all be well with you.

God grant it, God grant," it, responded Wan. Syphax, of Alexandria county, then approached and told Jackson that he was his acichhor, and would carry to the people of the butty any message he might wish to send. Jackson responded that he had nothing to say but to one man.

Thence the procession moved to the gallows, the Sheriff leading, and Jackson coming next. he came out the door he bowed to some hends and wished them good bye in a loud

The body fell with a thud at 12 24, but in a moment it became evident it had not broken the neek of the doomed man; his head moved and the limbs were convulsed for some time, and it was full fifteen minutes before the body became

At 12 50 the remains were lowered, pronounced dead by Drs. Adam and Garrett; placed into the coffin, and given in the charge of Mr. Wheatley, the undertaker. At I o'clock the vard was clear. The crime of which Jackson was convicted was accompanied by many circumstances, making it one of marked brutality. Jackson, who was a laborer at the brick-yard near the Long Bridge, lived in that neighborhood with his wife, two families occupying one house. Early in February the wife gave birth to a child. suffering much after her delivery with childbirth tever, and being often delirious. Jackson seemed to be displeased that she occasioned him so much trouble (at least this is the statement of the witnesses for the prosecution) and on the 15th of February he came in and found her sitting up in her bed. He had previously told her that she must lie down all the time, and keep quiet, but she in her delirium paid no heed to him. On this occasion, when he found her sitting up. he said, "Now, you av down there." She paid no attention to his command, whereupon he seized a large stick of wood and struck her with such force on the head that it was afterwards discovered in the post mortem that her skull was fractured. She fell back senseless and thenceforward suffered almost continually with spasms until 2 o'clock upon the morning of the 16th of February, when she died.

During her sickness after the blow, the only exclamation made by the stricken woman was, 'Oh! my head," while the only information about the matter which Jackson vouchsafed was that "she was in his way anyhow, and he rather she'd be gone." The blow was struck about ten o'clock on Thursday night, and the woman died on Friday morning about 8 o'clock.

When Jackson found she was dead, he told the woman there to cover up the remains; he bolted the door of the room and went off, saying, "Don't let the ladies know she is dead, I've no money to bury her," and he was never seen again until his arrest.

Information of her death being communicated to a neighboring magistrate, a jury of inquest was held, and Jackson arrested and carried to jail at Alexandria, where he remained until his execution.

There was much talk after the execution was over concerning a piece of paper which Jackson dropped from the scaffold just before the drop fell. It was said that this paper contained a confession. The facts about it are these:

Mr. Bernard Cline, Deputy Warden of the ail at Jackson's request wrote this morning three names, H. Thompson, and two others upon a piece of paper, and Jackson put it in his pocket. During the exercises Jackson told Mr. Hecken, of the Christian Association, that he had a paper he intended to give to Mr. Beadle, containing full-information relative to his family, &c., and as Mr. Beadle was not there he (Hecken) must watch and see when he dropped it from the scaffold and pick it up. Hecken accordingly watched; the paper was dropped. Hecken picked it up and he and Mr. Bruner opened it, but it contained only three near Groveton, in Prince William county tonames and was evidently the same paper writ- day, for the benefit of the church there. ten in the morning by Mr. Cine.

THE CANAL. There are many contradictory reports concerning the damage to the Chesapeake and Ohio canal and as to the time of resumption of navigation. The latest and most reliable account is that owing to the damage done the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, between the Relay House and Harper's Ferry, by the washing away of the track, &c., timber cannot be taken to Berlin to repair the culvert at that point, and as a consequence a further delay in the resumption of navigation will be occasioned, and coal may not be expected here for eight or tendays. If, however, the storm of to-day should have extended so far up, further damage is anticipated and a still longer delay may by looked for. The supply of coal here and at Georgetown is nearly exhausted and many of the vessels that have come here for cargoes are leaving for other ports and for other freight.

RELIGIOUS FESTIVAL.-To-day has been solemoly celebrated at St. Mary's Church as The Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, it being a general belief among Catholics, though not positively declared as a dogma, that her Divine Son raised her body and soul, to Heaven after her death. At 7 o'clock this morning, there were a great number of communicants, to whom Rev. E. J. Sourin, S. J., made a short but most impressive address, and High Mass was sung at 11 by the pastor. For the past three mornings, large congregations have attended the early Masses, between which the Litany of the Saints was recited for the deliverance of Rome and the churches generally from their present tribulation, as directed by > RAIN STORM .-- Another severe rain storm visited this city and vicinity to-day, the wind being from the northeast and the water pouring down, flooding the street crossings, washing out ditches, and for a time suspending out of door business, but doing no damage that we have heard of, save the filling of a few cellars in different parts of the city.

ESCAPE OF A TURTLE -- A fine sea turtle, weighing about 75 lbs., on the schooner Seahawk, made its escape overboard this morning, and though a great effort was made to secure his turtleship, being in its native element, and the water very muddy, it made good its escape, and has probably put out for salt water.

DEATH FROM A FALL. -Mr. Harrison Kidwell, of Fairfax county, while under the influence of liquor, fell in the street at the Court House, yesterday, and striking his head fractured his skull, producing death almost instantly. Mr. K. was quite an aged man, well known throughout the county.

BOAT PICKED UP. - A race boat, probably from Washington, was picked up, adrift, this morning by the schooner H. B. McCaulay, at anchor, in the stream off this city. The build of the boat was similar to that of the Ripple. Her stern was stove in and she was otherwise damaged.

No APPLICANTS. - There has not been, as yet a single applicant for the two scholarships in the Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College at Blacksburg, to which this city and county are entitled. Unless they are filled by the 23rd, the Faculty will appoint from the State at large. POSTPONED .-- The Masonic festivities, tournament &c to have commenced at Fairfax C. H.

yesterday, were postponed on account of the Weather, notwithstanding there were a number of persons present, until next Tuesday, when it is contemplated to carry out fully the original programme.

TICKETS for the camp meeting at the Fauquier White Sulphur Springs, which commences on the 20th, will be issued at half fare.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The steamer Arrow left here this morning with a large crowd of excursionist for Collingwood, the farm of Stacy H. Snowden, in Fairfax county, a few miles below her, to attend the exhibition of the Fruit Grower's Association, but the rain must have seriously interferred with the pleasure of the execusionists and the exhibition.

The Committee on Poor of the City Council advertise for proposals for furnishing the Alms House with provisions, fuel, shoes, dry goods, &c., for one quarter, beginning the 20th.

There are a good many vessels in the harbor awaiting cargoes, but in consequence of the suspension of the coal trade, many are leaving, light, for other ports. Raios are reported in all the neighboring

This morning upon the re-assembling of the Association the committee on organization reported a plan which was adopted.

Among those here in attendance on the Convention are Generals Beauregard, Hunton, Fitzhugh Lee, Early, Terry and Lane, Col. Withers, and other prominent military men.

Gen. Early in the course of his address denied the proposition that we had submitted everything to the arbitrament of the sword, and had lost all, and drew a vivid and amusing picture of the newly pledged loyalist trying to keep step to the music of "John Brown's Soul is Marching On." He believed that a day of retribution to the North would come, and that the present demoralized condition of the politics of the country was but a token of the coming

Health of Mr. Motley.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15,-A London letter dated July 31st says Mr. Motley's friends have for some time known that his health was delicate and will not be surprised to learn that he is now confined to his hotel by a somewhat serious attack. He has had a slight paralytic stroke. It occurred as Mr. Motley was taking lady Margaret Beammont down to dinner. His right arm suddenly fell powerless by his side, and the side itself was somewhat affected. He was carried to his hotel in Dover street and has not since left his room. The physicians agree in regarding the paralysis as by no means serious nor likely to trouble him for any length of time. On inquiry yesterday it was ascertained that he had been going on favorably with the exception of a considerable neuralgic

BURLINGTON, IOWA, Aug. 15, - A dispatch from Mansfield, Ohio, says some time ago N. H. Dabbs, a farmer, attempted to outrage a little girl named Barnard. He failed in his attempt and was arrested. Suit is now pending in court against him. In order to prevent the attendance of the girl and her father as witnesses Dabbs employed two ruffians named Lightfoot and Winfield to blow up Barnard's house. Winfield betrayed the others in time to prevent the execution of the scheme, which was to have taken place Wednesday night. Dabbs and Lightfoot were arrested. In the latter's possession was found a quantity of powder and a fuse. The affair created much excitement.

REMARKS .- We have no material change to note in the Flour market; receipts have been light, and good Bakers' Extras are much sought after, with a fair local enquiry for choice Family brands, but low grades are neglected. Wheat opened brisk, and prices advanced 5 to 8c on high grades; receipts are increasing, and the quality of the offerings is improving, some choice samples being offered on 'Change to-day, bringing outside figures; all offerings are taken by shippers to go out of the market: offerings to day of 464 bushels white and 1606 of red, with sales of the former at 155 for very good, and 163 and 164 for strictly prime, and of the latter at 130, 135 and 140 for common to fair, 146, 155, 158, 160, 161 and 162 for good to strictly prime, and 163, 164 and 165 for choice. Corn opened dull at last week's quotations, but receipts being large prices declined 2a3c: towards the last of the week receipts fell off and the loss was recovered, the market closing firm; offerings to-day of 268 bushels mixed and 46 of yellow, with sales of the former at 66, and of the latter at 62. Rye is quiet and steady. Receipts of Oats are very light, with a good demand; prices are advancing and the market closes firm; offerings to-day of 552 bushels, with sales at 38 and 40. Prime Butter is very scarce and in demand; low grades closes firm. Potatoes are scarce, with a good demand. The market for Seeds is not fairly open; there is some enquiry for Timothy at our quotations. Bacon is very firm, with an advancing tendency. We have no change to note in Plaster, Salt or Wool.

ALEXANDRIA CATTLE MARKET, August 15 .-The offerings of Cattle, Sheep and Lambs and Cows and Calves this week were quite large, though not greater than the demand. Cattle sold at 3½ to 5½. Sheep 4 to 5½c, Lambs 2 50 to $4 50, and Cows and Calves 20 to $45. Market fairly active.

BALTIMORE CATTLE, MARKET, August 14 .-Prices to-day for Beef Cattle ranged as fol-lows: Best Beeves at 5 50a$6 75; generally rated first quality at 4 50a$5 50; medium to good fair quality at 4 00aS4 50; ordinary thin Steers, Oxen and Cows at 3 25aS4 00; inferior and lowest grades of Cattle 0 00a$0 00-general average of the market to-day $5.00; extreme range of prices 3.2 a$6.75. Most of the sales were from 4.50 to $5.50 per 100 lbs. Total receipts for the week 1126 head. The market this week opened with some little activity, showing about ic advance, but before the close became slow, and receded to last week's rates. There were not as many Cattle on the market as last week by between four and five hundred.

Sheep and Lambs-The con..derable falling off in the receipts of Sheep this week has had a tendency to liven up the market, and an advance of le per lb may be noted on good fat Sheep; stockers also appear to have an upward tendency. The supply of Lambs is fully equal to the demand. We now quote Sheep at 41 abc per lb gross. Stock Sheep are in demand at 250a $3.75 per head. Lamos dull at 2.50a$3.75 per head. Receipts this week 4193 head. Hogs-Notwithstanding the considerable increase in the receipts this week, prices have been maintained, with a fair prospect of a continuance of present rates unless heavier arrivals should come, which at present is not anticipated. Light smooth Hogs continue in best demand at our highest quotations, viz: 7 25a$7 50 per 100 Its net. Receipts this week 7222 head.

GEORGETOWN CATTLE MARKET, August 14 -There were 275 Cattle, 100) Sheep and Lambs and 40 Cows and Calves offered to-day. Cattle sold at 3 to 6c, Sheep 4 to 54c, Lambs 2 to $450, and Cows and Calves 20 to $50. Owing to a shert supply of Cattle, the market was brisk at an advance of I to Re on last week's sales. We believe this advance and activity in Cattle is only temporary. The offerings of Sheep and Lambs o-day, as a whole, were the most inferior of the eason. About 250 remained over unsold.

CHICAGO CATTLE MARKET, Aug. 14.-Cattle dull: receipts 3000 head; prices weak; the best ile was a small bunch of extra Steers, averaging 1430 lbs, at $6 30; fair to choice sold at 5 to $5 55; through and corn-fed Texans 2 75a$4 371; shipments 2000 head. She p active and firm; receipts 700 head; shade higher for best grades at 4 25a$4 50.

LYNCHBURG MARKET, August 14.-Flour inactive, with light receipts, the demand being supplied by the city mills. Wheat is coming in slowly, and prices are unchanged; white 155a 165; red 150a160. Corn in good demand at 80a 85. Some new Oats have been received; demand
